Prior to the graduate assignment, he taught for two years in the North Boone High School, Poplar Grove, Ill. Mr. Yonke will serve in the Mathematics Department and assist in Freshman-Sophomore Basketball Coaching.

Bees Disturbed-- Lilly Gets Stung

Mrs. Lillian Forster, Bluff Lake Road, Antioch, was able to joke about it Tuesday, but it was no joke last Friday when she was attacked by an angry swarm of bees.

Mrs. Forster became the target for the bees while cleaning up behind her garage. They were in a hole in the ground, she says, and when she disturbed them they swarmed over her. She was stung numerous times.

Mrs. Forster said she managed to get in the house, but began to get ill from the stings. She tried to phone for help, but couldn't remember the number to call.

A neighbor finally saw Mrs. Forster through the window, and came to her aid, calling the Antioch Rescue Squad. She was then taken to the Antioch Clinic where she received treatment from Dr. Bobzien.

A nephew, Charles Forster, took her to the home of Mrs. Irving Forster, to recover. The "home" of the bees will be sprayed at night, she said, to prevent a recurrence of the attack.

The venom of many bee stings can make people very ill, and even prove fatal, doctors say.

Cubs Treated To Weiner Roast

Members of the Lyons-Ryan Cubs, Little League team, were treated to a weiner roast at the Bob Gross residence last week.

The boys want to thank Larry Ryan, the Roy Nelsons, the Frank Zemans and the Vince Naudas for providing the food for the feast.

Board Approves 99-Year Lease of 40 Foot To Plaza

The Village Board Tuesday night voted to grant the Orchard Street Shopping Plaza a 99-year lease on the forty-foot strip of land which has been under recent discussion. The motion for the lease contained several stipulations, and is contingent on an investigation of its legality.

Attorney Edward Jacobs said he had been unable to secure an opinion from the Title and Trust Co. as to whether or not a 99-year lease could legally be granted to the plaza without advertising the property for bids. With the motion approved by the village board, he said, he could begin to work on investigation of the legality of the lease.

Dave Nissen reported the conclusions reached by the committee appointed to meet with the plaza promoters to reach an agreement. He then made a motion to approve the 99-year lease, with the conditions. The motion was seconded by Einar Peterson, and unanimously approved by the board.

The property in question is a forty-foot parking strip on the northwest portion of the village parking lot and adjacent to the northeast corner of the Orchard St. plaza. Provisions contained in the motion to grant the lease are as follows:

1. The shopping plaza owners would dedicate a thirty-foot strip on the south 31 feet of their property for a village street, with a one-foot buffer on the south. The buffer would be removed if all adjoining property owners on the south dedicated a like 30 feet to make a 60 foot road, or at any time by a two-thirds vote of the village board.

2. Plaza owners will grade and blacktop the 30-foot lane.

3. Plaza owners will in-

found in the ditch near her car by two boys who were bicycling on the road about 10 a.m. The boys reported the matter to police.

Sheriff's police determined that the girl had been driving home from the Grayslake Bowl, where she had bowled in league. She was alone, according to acquaintances at the bowling alley.

Johnson was questioned by Sheriff's police after a Gurnee youth told them he saw Johnson and the girl standing near her car about 1:30 a.m. Friday. He stopped, he said, thinking one of them might have car trouble. Told everything was all right, he drove on. He recognized both Miss Obenauf and Johnson.

Johnson first denied knowledge of the killing, then admitted it. He said that he had passed Miss Obenauf's car on Route 120, and she had honked the horn as though she wanted him to stop.

He said he stopped, and asked her what she wanted. She said there was something wrong with her car. Johnson got a flashlight and lug wrench from his car, and looked at the motor. He told her he could find nothing wrong, and started to return to his car.

Johnson said Miss Obenauf then ordered him to come back and fix her car. Angered, he struck her in the face with the flashlight.

When she jumped in the car, and locked the doors, it angered him further, he said. He broke the window, dragged her out, and kept striking her with the wrench.

Johnson said he didn't know Miss Obenauf. People ordered him around all day at the gas station, he said, and he couldn't stand it. He didn't like to be yelled at and ordered around, he said.

Johnson went to work the next day as usual. A Grayslake woman who stopped at the station where he worked on that Friday morning said, "He was as nice and pleasant as usual. I always got gas at that station because they were so pleasant. We hadn't even heard about the murder then, it was about 10:30 Friday morning. He talked to me the way he always did. I just can't believe it."

That seemed to be the reaction of most people who knew the young man. He graduated from Grayslake High School last spring. He was vice president of the Student Council, and active in football and wrestling. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson of Grayslake. He has three brothers.

Joyce Obenauf, 20, was the daughter of Lawrence Obenauf, Round Lake. She lived with her father and 20-year-old stepmother. She had a brother, William, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Judy Socha, of Grayslake. She is also survived by her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Obenauf of Mundelein, and her maternal grandfather, Ernest Gratz of Harvard.

Funeral services for Miss Obenauf were held Monday in Round Lake.

Johnson is being held in Lake County jail without bail. His case is slated to go before the grand jury on September 8.

Grand Opening For Jayne's Dress Shop This Fri. & Sat.

Jayne's Dress Shop will be the name of the shop formerly known as the Trading Post on Main St. in Antioch, after the Grand Opening this weekend, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 4 and 5.

Jayne Molitor, owner of the shop, says they'll be serving coffee and doughnuts, giving football megaphones to the children, and some door prizes.

Door prizes include a portable TV, a portable hair dryer and a hand mixer. No purchase necessary, of course.

Jayne's putting several items on sale for these days. To mention a few, Bobby Brooks mohair sweaters; all skirts, shirt-style blouses, knit tops and house dresses.

Mrs. Molitor has been operating the shop since June 12.

The Molitors, who also operate the Grayslake Bowl, are opening a new billiard parlor on Main St. in Antioch, also. This should be open in about a week now, Mrs. Molitor says. The interior has been carpeted, the walls paneled, and they're waiting only for the equipment.

The billiard parlor will have seven tables, and be open seven days a week from 10 a.m. to midnight. The curfew will be enforced for young people. Vending machines in the place will dispense coffee and pop.

Ask Permit To Dredge Channel
To Bluff Lake

Francis S. Lorenz, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, has announced that an application has been received for a construction permit from Joe and Bernice Lupa, Rt. 1, Grass Lake Road, to dredge a harbor and entrance channel to Bluff Lake about three miles southwest of Antioch.

September 4. It will be at the Memorial platform on Broadway and Orchard in Antioch.

The concert is sponsored by "Big" John Teresi, local Chevy and Olds dealer.

Grayslake Man Charged With Murder Of Girl

William Johnson, an 18-year-old gas station attendant, was charged Monday with the murder of Joyce Obenauf.

Johnson confessed killing the girl after several hours of questioning. However, he refused to sign the written statement of his confession.

Miss Obenauf was beaten to death early last Friday, August 28, on Route 120, a short distance east of Cedar Lake Road. Her body was found in the ditch near her car by two boys who were bicycling on the road about 10 a.m. The boys reported the matter to police.

Sheriff's police determined that the girl had been driving home from the Grayslake Bowl, where she had bowled in league. She was alone, according to acquaintances at the bowling alley.

Sisters Serve 4700 Dinners

For the second year the chicken dinner served by the Benedictine Sisters of the Holy Family Convent of Benet Lake, Wisconsin, was a complete success.

Last year, serving the chicken dinner for the first time, the Sisters encountered some difficulties in not being fully prepared for the large crowd that attended. Customers had to wait in line for a long time. No complaints, though, and 3000 dinners were served. The project at that time was to raise money for a new well and septic tank. Proceeds easily took care of the project.

This year the chicken dinner was an even greater success and through the experiences of the previous dinner, the Sisters were well prepared to meet their guests. A total of 4700 dinners were served and customers kept coming and going with little waiting. The weather, not at all favorable, did not keep the crowd away and the only problem that seemed to develop was keeping up with the coffee.

Sister Margaret Mary, chairman of the dinner, says that all the proceeds from this dinner are going into a fund for a new convent building that is much needed by the Benedictine Sisters.

"None of this could have been possible," said Sister Margaret Mary, "if it wasn't for all those wonderful people who came from parishes all around, I can't even begin to tell you from where, and donated their time and services to help make this dinner the success that it was. The credit is really theirs and we are truly grateful," says Sister Margaret Mary, O.S.B.

Former Resident
Dies In Montana

A telegram was received by Mrs. Roy Kufalk, Antioch, Wednesday morning telling of the death of a former Antioch resident, Mrs. Inez Ames.

Mrs. Ames died Tuesday morning, September 1, in Glasgow, Montana, where she had lived for several years. She lived on Victoria Street in Antioch for 60 years before moving to Montana.

The funeral will be held Thursday, September 3, at 10 a.m. from the Congregational Church in Glasgow.

Mrs. Kufalk said she had received a letter from Mrs. Ames on Monday telling her of her illness and saying goodbye. The two have kept in touch regularly by letter in the years since Mrs. Ames left Antioch.

Midwest members of the famous fighting 284th Field Artillery Bn. of World War II will gather at the home of Ronni Polson, on Sunday, September 6th.

The 1964 National Reunion of this highly decorated battalion took place in July on Long Island and this second get-together is for the special benefit of the men in this area that could not make the New York trip.

About 60 men and their families are expected, including General Sanders, former commander of the 284th. The General, whose home base is Winneconne, Wis., finds time to attend all 284th reunions and will be present as he was in July at New York.

An honored guest at the doings will be the Medal of Honor recipient, Mr. William "Bud" Weisenborn, whose Shrine Units entertained Antioch on August 22.

The 284th or "Hellmate," which was the code name used by the battalion throughout the European action, is one of the very few World War II Units that still maintain close contact. Antioch is the headquarters from where monthly newsletters are sent and each year finds these men gathering at some distant point to renew old friendships and fight their particular war over again.

1965 will see the battalion's annual conclave take place in the Chicago area and possibly in the vicinity of Antioch.

Rescue Squad To Hold First Aid Classes In Sept.

Anyone interested in learning what to do in an emergency is urged to attend the First Aid classes which will start at the Rescue Squad Building at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, September 16.

Dan Dugenske will be the instructor for the classes, which are sponsored by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

The classes will be from 7 to 9 p.m. every Wednesday evening until the course is ended.

"This will be the only First Aid course we'll have this fall," Dugenske pointed out. "Warren Polley, Red Cross instructor, is leaving town, so we will not have a series of courses."

Several of the bus drivers from the schools, Rescue Squad members and firemen will be taking the course, which will cover general First Aid in emergencies.

Labor's Own Holiday

Labor Day, falling on September 7 in 1964, has come to symbolize several things not intended by the original founder of the holiday.

Peter J. McGuire first suggested the observance of Labor Day in 1882. He was then president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and an active leader in the Knights of Labor. He suggested a parade to show the strength and esprit de corps of trade and labor organizations in the U. S.

The first Labor Day celebration was held Sept. 5, 1882. On October 9, 1884, the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions of the U. S. and Canada met in Chicago and voted to make observance of Labor Day national.

The first state to declare Labor Day a State holiday was Oregon, on February 21, 1887. The idea took hold quickly, and within three months similar action was taken by Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York. Thirty states soon followed suit and on June 28, 1894, Congress declared the day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the territories.

Intended as recognition of organized Labor, it's doubtful if many laborers nowadays even give a fleeting thought to this connotation. Now, it's the last holiday of the summer season; the signal for schools to open all across the land; time for owners of summer homes to return to their city residence; in resort regions, the last week-end for the "Open Sunday" sign.

For laborers and white collar workers, and their bosses, a long week-end and the last chance to take that week-end trip. And for many motorists, the end of the road.

Predictions of the week-end death toll will start early in the week. Warnings will be publicized, extra police will work all week-end. Warnings and common sense ignored, death will ride the crowded highways beside hundreds of the holiday crowd. And the prediction of the death toll will be reached and passed.

How to avoid joining the many for whom this will be the last Labor Day? Probably the surest way is to stay home. If you can't, or refuse to let the statistics spoil your holiday, the safest way is to drive as though everyone else on the road is either drunk or demented. Keep your eyes open, your mind alert, and, above all, stay sober.

Only 61 days till W. C. Day. No, not the W. C. made famous by a weeping Jack Paar. This is Writer's Cramp Day for those hardy souls who are going to vote independent in this fall's election of State Legislators.

You can, if you like, take the coward's way out and mark your ballot straight Democratic or Republican. However, if you have an adventurous heart, and a strong right hand and arm, you'll vote for the man of your choice—177 of 'em.

Don't let election day catch you with your muscles down if you're going to do this. Don't forget, in addition to voting for the 177, you must make your Presidential choice, plus numerous state offices, plus a couple of Constitutional amendments.

As a public service to our readers, we suggest a regimen of exercises to get your arm, hand and feet muscles in trim for the workout in the voting booth on November 1.

1. Clasp a pencil in your hand, and mark an X on a sheet of paper. Start with five X's and increase the number slowly each day till you have worked up to 250. (Caution: Do this exercise only when someone else is around, after you pass the 100 mark. You may need someone to remove the pencil from your hand. We don't want you incapacitated on November 3.)

2. Make grabbing motions in the air with your fingers. Start with 10, work up to fifty daily. This strengthens the finger muscles. It will also prepare you for the proper posture, should you ever decide to run for the State Legislature yourself.

3. Practice raising and lowering the arms in a small enclosed space, such as a closet. This will restore circulation in your arms. Remember to repeat this exercise after every fifty names you mark in the election.

4. Start lifting weights, to get your arm muscles in shape.

5. Practice slipping off your shoes also in a closet. Practice wiggling your toes, shifting from one foot to the other, and doing deep knee bends. This will help to minimize foot and leg strain.

6. Practice trying to keep several various-sized sheets of paper on a small shelf while you study and mark them.

Practice counting up to 177. Mark 177 X's, count them to see if they're correct, then re-check them the next day. You had 178? Keep trying.

And Good Luck.

A Man's View Point

By Dale E. Deckley

Dear Dale:

I would like to travel to Europe but feel that I can't afford it. I've been hearing so much discussion and rumormongering to think that maybe it's not so expensive as I think. What is the average cost of a European trip?

—Yearning for Europe

Dear Yearning:

The cost of any trip is determined by your mode of travel, choice of accommodations, meals, etc. According to one of the top travel bureaus, there are budget tours costing as little as five dollars a day, while the average tourist spends about twenty. Naturally, shopping and souvenirs are extra. Bon voyage.

—Dale

Dear Dale:

Why is it more dangerous to have a blowout on the front tire?

—Blowout

Dear Blowout:

Naturally, the front tires have a more direct influence on controlling your car. The drag on a blowout front tire will cause the car to swerve toward the blowout side. A blowout rear tire will not cause such a swerve. With a front tire blowout the driver should avoid using the brakes if at all possible as using the brake will increase the drag on the tire and make the car almost impossible to control.

Reasonable speed is the safety factor that we should always keep in mind to prevent serious accidents in case of a blowout or any other driving situation. "Slow down and live" is a common but pertinent slogan to drive by.

—Dale

Dear Dale:

I am a thirty-year-old "bachelor girl" and would gladly give up the title for the right bachelor. Lately I've been dating occasionally a man who seems interested in me, but is quite satisfied with his "single blessedness." I've been told I'm an excellent cook and would like my friend to know it. How can I do this without him thinking that I'm trying to "get to his heart through his stomach?"

—Ellen

Dear Ellen:

Any man who has to "eat out" every day of his life will jump at the chance to do otherwise, especially in the company of a gal who is eager to please. May I say how refreshing it is to know that there are still a few bachelor girls who are "hunting" without wanting to be too forward about it. I would suggest you have a small dinner party on the occasion of another close friend's birthday or anniversary and invite him along with the other couple. Or make it appear to be a spur-of-the-moment idea. Call to ask you to dinner and you've been "marinating this nice roast all day!"

—Dale

Dear Dale:

I say Babe Ruth holds the home run record, but my brother thinks that Roger Maris holds the record. Who is right?

—Home Run Fan

Dear Home Run:

You are both right. Actually Babe Ruth's record stands at 60 home runs in 154 games. Roger Maris set his own record of 61 homers in 162 games. Because of the difference in the number of games played, each record stands individually.

—Dale

Dear Dale:

When slaughtering animals for human consumption, why is it desirable to bleed the animal thoroughly?

—Red Meat

Dear Red Meat:

From strictly a nutritional point of view, bleeding is unimportant. Providing the blood were clean and disease free, no harm would come to anyone who consumed it.

Bleeding is done for practical and aesthetic reasons. If the animals were not bled, blood dripping on floors and equipment would create additional cleaning and sanitation problems. In addition, the meat would be darker in color and less appetizing to look at.

Courthouse Notebook

By LDU DURKIN

Now that the national nominating conventions are over and the top due for the two national tickets have been selected political interest can expect to shift to state and local contests.

As usual the Republicans are expected to sweep the Lake County offices and should capture the Congressional seat for U.S. Representative Robert McClory and State Senator Robert Coulson's seat in the district races, but the big problem facing the GOP state and national ticket is the size of the Republican majority in this normally Republican stronghold.

There are some who would like to make like an ostrich and stick their heads in the sands, but there are indications on all sides that the GOP is in trouble in Lake County.

The splits and schisms that developed during the primary last spring, the lingering effects of the legislative purge by Republican leaders, and the stresses and strains of the recent judicial convention are far from healed and there is a strong feeling that the candidates will be running individually instead of as a team.

One candidate expressed the feeling at the GOP Central Committee Golf Outing that he felt like he was running in a primary election and was strictly on his own instead of running as part of the Republican slate.

The possibility that a big Democratic vote could sweep all 118 Democratic candidates for State Representative into the Illinois General Assembly is already prompting some GOP legislative hopefuls to pump for a "sure vote for me, at least."

The defection of Appellate Judge William M. Carroll, of Woodstock, to the Democratic ranks in the Appellate race is an indication of the strains pulling and hauling at the Republican Party in this area.

There are rumbles from McHenry County that many Republicans who supported Judge Carroll as a member of the state legislature, as McHenry County State's Attorney and as Circuit Judge, are disenchanted because of his defection and are mounting a campaign to have him dumped as Circuit Judge.

The veteran jurist will be running on his record as a "non-partisan" candidate for retention in the 19th Judicial Circuit post as well as on the Democratic ticket, but will not be opposed by another candidate in his bid for reelection.

In the meantime Circuit Judge Philip W. Yager, who was appointed to the bench by Gov. Otto Kerner, continues to attract support from nominally Republican lawyers and many GOP regulars in his bid for election to a full term.

Now that the GOP golf outing is out of the way perhaps Central Committee Chairman Robert J. Milton can concentrate his talents on achieving the "unity" party speakers insist is a party strongpoint.

Don't be surprised if the Republican State Platform sounds strangely like State Sen. Coulson in its final form.

There are indications that many of the GOP leaders, particularly among the legislators and newspaper publishers, were so impressed with Sen. Coulson's booklet, "Illinois in the '70's" that they want to make some of the ideas an integral part of the platform.

Sen. Coulson is also taking part in a series of debates on the constitutional amendment proposal calling for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Lake County Democrats occupy the political picnic picture this weekend with their annual outing at the Serbian Monastery, Rte. 63 north of Libertyville, and Chairman Mark Turner, of Antioch, reports that there will be something for everybody.

Which certainly sounds reasonable for a Democratic affair.

State Rep. Corneal Davis, a colorful political orator, will be the main speaker, but principal interest will be centered on the state candidates, most of whom are expected to be on hand.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

SMALLPOX THREATENS RETURN

Smallpox—long written off as a disease of the past—is fast becoming a national danger again. There is still an appreciable number of smallpox cases in many parts of the world and high-speed travel abroad increases the risk of the disease being re-introduced to this country.

To compound this threat, immunization against smallpox last for only limited periods and initial protection has fallen dangerously low for the vast majority of adults.

Therefore, even if you were vaccinated when you were a baby, you aren't safe if you haven't been revaccinated since then.

Fortunately, Americans can prevent a tragic and unnecessary smallpox epidemic by visiting their physician for a "booster" inoculation.

In case you've forgotten the consequences of being defenseless against smallpox, it was one of the most deadly and disfiguring diseases known to mankind. In earlier times it periodically devastated populations, sometimes killing as many as 40 per cent of its victims.

Smallpox first strikes with chills, high fever, headache and muscle pains. Children often suffer the vicious attack with vomiting and convulsions.

Then comes the rash on face and limbs. It spreads to the rest of the body and develops into honey-combed blisters which fester painfully. By the end of the eighth or 10th day after eruption, the sores begin to crust and form scars which leave permanent scars and pock marks when they fall off.

In severe cases, the eruptions can bleed, gangrene can develop and permanent damage be done to eyes and ears. These last symptoms are an indication that the disease is running a fatal course.

However, keep in mind that the horrors of smallpox can be prevented if you continue to make sure that your immunity is high. Medical authorities will tell you to get re-vaccinated every five years and always before you depart for a trip abroad.

How do you know whether you're protected? The results or "takes" from inoculation of the smallpox vaccine are classified in three categories:

1. "Primary" vaccination means that you had no immunity at all. The vaccine injection first creates a pimple which becomes a blister and then a crusted sore. The scab falls off leaving you with the familiar pock scar or vaccination mark.

2. "Accelerated" vaccination or "mild take" indicates a partial immunity. The reaction is the same as that of the "primary" reaction but it doesn't last as long and the eruption is not as big.

3. "Immune" reaction consists of a very small pimple which develops and disappears much quicker than the previous "takes."

Don't mistake this last "absence" of a reaction for immunity. It may only represent sensitivity. Remember that your doctor is the one who should interpret your reaction to smallpox vaccine.

You can prevent the terrors of smallpox from returning to this country to strike you. See your doctor to get vaccinated and then follow through with him to make sure you're protected.

SPARE CHILDREN FOOT MISERY

Certain infants and older children occasionally develop corns, callouses, bunions, ingrown toenails, hammer toes, plantar warts and other foot conditions.

Inasmuch as some parents fail to realize the rapidity of growth in children, these problems usually arise from improperly fitting shoes.

The majority of pre-school age children require a larger shoe size every two or three months, but occasionally children's feet grow so rapidly that they will require a full size larger in a month.

Six to 10-year-olds need larger shoes every two to three months; 10 to 12-year-olds, every three to four months; 12 to 15-year-olds, every four to five months; and 15 to 20-year-olds, every six months.

A proper fit requires that the large joint of the first toe "break" between the sole and the shank. There should, of course, be some room—usually a half-inch—between the end of the big toe and the tip of shoe.

Shoes are made of many materials—leather being the most suitable because it affords good aeration and support. A proper shoe is pliable and does not interfere with free motion of the toes.

Plastic shoes, canvas shoes and other recreation footwear may be used during summer months—but these should not be worn constantly. It is health for youngsters to play barefoot in sand, water or grass, but not on cold, hard surfaces.

An infant's foot requires a loose-fitting cloth "bootie" until he learns to stand. First shoes should have a flexible or semi-flexible shank and sole. These are generally an eighth-of-an-inch thick to protect the feet. They generally do not require a heel or arches, but a very small heel may be recommended.

Never order shoes through the mail. It is especially difficult to obtain a proper fit without actually trying on the shoes for size.

The bones of the feet are not fully developed for about 10 years, while the heel takes about 20 years before it is completely formed. Shoe sizes, therefore, are important because of the growth factor and the need for motion and freedom.

If your youngster has weak ankles, flat feet, or other defects, consult your physician so that he may take the proper steps to remedy the problem and avoid permanent conditions and disabilities.

SAFEGUARD YOUR Health DIVERTICULOSIS

Have you ever heard the term "diverticulosis"? (Pronounced: dye-ver-tic-you-low-sis.)

Although it is not popularly known, this intestinal problem affects nearly 20 per cent of all Americans over 45 years of age. What's more, it can be troublesome and even dangerous—if not properly cared for.

The word "diverticula"—from which the condition "diverticulosis" gets its name—describes weak spots in the wall of the lower digestive tract which protrude as "pockets" or "sacs". The most common cause of these weak spots is strain produced by intestinal gas and constipation.

Frequently the patient makes his condition worse by allowing constipation to recur and then increasing the stress with high-powered laxatives.

The intestinal pockets produced in this way are perfect catch-alls for undigested food particles, fecal matter and mucus. When the pressure is too great or inflammation occurs, small blood vessels in the intestinal wall rupture and produce blood in the stool, or the first sign of trouble may be abdominal pain due to inflammation.

When this occurs, heed the warning and seek prompt medical attention. These signs and symptoms mean your diverticulosis has progressed to a far more dangerous stage called diverticulitis.

Continued pressure in the pocket, further weakened by infection and inflammation can result in perforation or "blowout" of the pocket. This is a serious consequence and prompt medical attention is needed.

These dangerous consequences can be avoided, if the patient follows these simple rules:

1. Avoid foods containing seeds or fibrous bulk which can easily lodge in the pockets. High on the list of prohibited foods are figs, raisins, strawberries, tomatoes, cracked wheat and oatmeal.

2. Avoid foods that produce intestinal gas, such as beans, cabbage, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts and carbonated beverages.

3. Develop good bowel habits—it's an important way of avoiding undue pressure in your intestinal tract. If constipation does occur, relieve it with low pressure enemas of tepid water. Never resort to harsh cathartics or colonic irrigations.

4. See your doctor regularly. Periodic examination

4. Plaza owners will install storm sewers adequate to provide drainage for Lake St. and the Village parking lot.

5. Plaza owners will grade and blacktop the forty-foot strip which they are leasing from the Village.

6. Plaza owners will consent to accept the lease with the permanent conditions that it shall never be fenced, no buildings will be erected on it, and it shall remain for use for parking, ingress or egress.

7. Plaza owners will grade and blacktop the 30-foot road (the remainder of the original 70-foot road into the village parking lot from Orchard St.) for 150 feet from Orchard St. and install a curb on the east line thereof.

8. Plaza owners will pay one-half the cost of blacktopping the unpaved portion of the village parking lot.

The village board also approved a building permit for an 11,500 foot shell to be constructed in the plaza. The building, Dr. Vermeren said, would probably be partitioned into three or four shops on completion.

The permit was approved with the provision that plans for the interior and installation of utilities be submitted to the building commissioner later.

OPPOSES ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

Earlier in the meeting, Ernest Westlund and Richard Burnette had stated their opposition to the proposed ordinance to introduce one-way traffic on Elizabeth and Henry streets. Westlund said that parking of churchgoers at St. Peter's Church on Sunday, and the children from St. Peter's Church playing in the street on school days, made traffic so congested homeowners couldn't get in to their homes.

Westlund said that churchgoers left the parking lot at St. Peter's Social Center empty while parking in the street near the church. He and Mr. Burnette asked that traffic be left two-way.

Mayor Cunningham asked the committee to meet with Westlund, Burnette and Father Henderson to try to reach a solution.

A committee from the Home Owners Association of Oakwood Knolls asked permission to build a storm shelter at the entrance to the subdivision. The original one, they said, had to be torn down, because children climbed to the roof, and from there to a nearby tree, creating a hazard.

The board approved the request, with the provision that Edgar Simonsen work out location, etc. with the homeowners.

The board approved a motion not to object to the establishment of a six-acre cemetery near the Benedictine Abbey.

Kenneth Shorts, Waukegan attorney, presented a petition from Sadie Kravitz for annexation into the village of approximately 1 1/2 acres at the north limits to the village, across from Regal China. The property is the old Anderson property.

Mayor Cunningham announced that a meeting had been set for Wednesday, September 9, at 8:30 p. m. at the Antioch Savings & Loan community room of all persons interested in the installation of a parking lot behind the stores on the east side of Main St. He urged all board members to attend if possible.

Of this total, almost half went into homes where there were other children, and 17 of this group went into homes where there were eight or more children.

While about 85 per cent were under 10 years of age when the adoption took place, 1,164 were over age 10 & 92 of this group were aged 20 years or over. Seventy-three adoptions were made by single, unmarried persons.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

MEET THE NEWBORN BABY

C. Robert Gruver Editor

All About Babies

Infancy is such a fascinating stage of life. It is that brief period of adjustment when the newborn baby adapts itself to independent living in a strange and confusing environment outside mother's body.

In its earliest phase it seems to be a continuation of the prenatal state. At birth, baby seems to be hardly awake. And baby will continue to seem half awake and half asleep for a time, except for brief moments of wakefulness when he's hungry or is being bathed and diapered. He dozes but he doesn't sleep deeply.

Though the newborn baby appears to be complete in every detail—he has all his little toes and fingers—there is much that nature has yet to do.

For example, while baby's brain is completely formed, the nerve fibers that connect the brain to the eyes and to the muscles are not. This is why a newborn's eyes have difficulty focusing and often appear crossed and why his little limbs jerk so suddenly.

Until baby's nerve fibers are fully developed, his little body is a bundle of reflexes, those involuntary automatic responses to stimuli. When his tiny hand clutches your finger placed in his palm, that's a reflex. When baby turns his face toward a touch on his cheek, that's a reflex.

Baby's cry is a reflex and he cries "without tears" because the tear glands have not yet developed. The jerky movements of his little arms and legs and often his body, also are reflex actions. They should cause no concern. They're nature's way of keeping baby's heart pumping evenly and his blood circulating properly.

The queer sounds the newborn make also have good reason. The infant-sneezes and coughs not because he's catching cold but because this is nature's way of keeping his nose and throat clear of mucus. The snorts and grunts he makes when he sleeps are caused when the tongue occasionally slips back against the roof of his mouth. Remember, breathing is something quite new to baby.

During the first few weeks, breathing is quite shallow and baby appears to breathe with his stomach. This is because his chest and its muscles are, as yet, too small to do the job alone. Crying, incidentally, during these early weeks is nature's way of stimulating the breathing mechanism.

To watch the newborn baby as it skillfully moves from its cozy, peaceful prenatal existence into a world of harsh reality is a wonder and a joy to behold.

PROTECTING BABY'S HEARING

By Malte J. Carlson President Acousticon International

There are many children who have some degree of hearing impairment. About 80 percent of this "early deafness" occurs before the child's fifth year; and much of it can be prevented.

Most hearing impairments are the result of childhood diseases such as meningitis, measles, scarlet fever and influenza. Since these ailments. Friends may call at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch after 2 p. m. Thursday. Friends may call at the church from noon Friday until time of services.

"CAN I FORGIVE AND FORGET?"

The God-given ability to love and to forgive is inherent in man's spiritual nature as the likeness of God. The revengeful attitude that holds on to another's past mistakes is stopped as the law of Love floods our consciousness. Learning to see others as God made them changes our attitude—and lets them change, too.

ments, in their early stages, often resemble the common cold, the baby should be put to bed at the first sign of a cold symptom and the doctor called.

A hearing loss also can develop if care is not taken in cleaning baby's ears. Ear wax is a normal secretion from the glands in the ear canal and it helps to keep the skin healthy. It will, in most cases, fall out by itself as it accumulates. When sticky, it should be carefully wiped out.

It is suggested that you consult your physician before you attempt to clean baby's ears. He will show you how to do this correctly so you don't injure baby's ears, pave the way for an ear infection or push the wax deeper.

Particular care should be taken to prevent water from entering the ear. Too much water can cause the delicate nose and throat tissue to swell. This will interfere with the ventilation to the middle ear and can result in impaired hearing.

Allergies of the nose, throat, and ears also can cause swelling which will obstruct proper ventilation of the middle ear and thereby interfere with the baby's hearing mechanism.

Infected tonsils and large or infected adenoids can endanger the ears. Obstruction from adenoids will tend to disappear in adolescence. But in young children the adenoids may grow large enough to fill the ear passage leading from the throat to the ear. Your doctor can advise you whether or not they should be removed.

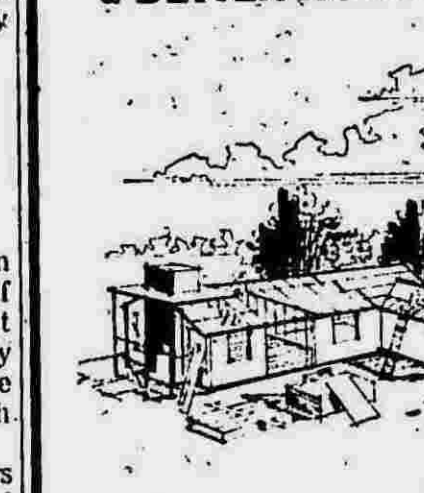

Regular ear checks and hearing tests for the baby are the best safeguards against impaired hearing. Hearing societies, clinics and hearing aid manufacturers throughout the country urge periodic ear examinations and have assisted in establishing community hearing conservation programs.

At the slightest indication of an ear infection or injury, baby should be taken to the doctor. Prompt and adequate medical treatment of infections and injuries is the best way to maintain good hearing and prevent a hearing loss.

Labor's Own Holiday

Labor Day, falling on September 7 in 1964, has come to symbolize several things not intended by the original founder of the holiday.

Peter J. McGuire first suggested the observance of Labor Day in 1882. He was then president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, and an active leader in the Knights of Labor. He suggested a parade to show the strength and esprit de corps of trade and labor organizations in the U. S.

The first Labor Day celebration was held Sept. 5, 1882. On October 9, 1884, the Federation of Organized Trades and Labor Unions of the U. S. and Canada met in Chicago and voted to make observance of Labor Day national.

The first state to declare Labor Day a State holiday was Oregon, on February 21, 1887. The idea took hold quickly, and within three months similar action was taken by Colorado, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and New York. Thirty states soon followed suit and on June 28, 1894, Congress declared the day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the territories.

Intended as recognition of organized labor, it's doubtful if many laborers nowadays even give a fleeting thought to this connotation. Now, it's the last holiday of the summer season; the signal for schools to open all across the land; time for owners of summer homes to return to their city residence; in resort regions, the last week-end for the "Open Sunday" sign.

For laborers and white collar workers, and their bosses, a long week-end and the last chance to take that week-end trip. And for many motorists, the end of the road.

Predictions of the week-end death toll will start early in the week. Warnings will be publicized, extra police will work all week-end. Warnings and common sense ignored, death will ride the crowded highways beside hundreds of the holiday crowd. And the prediction of the death toll will be reached and passed.

How to avoid joining the many for whom this will be the last Labor Day? Probably the surest way is to stay home. If you can't, or refuse to let the statistics spoil your holiday, the safest way is to drive as though everyone else on the road is either drunk or demented. Keep your eyes open, your mind alert, and, above all, stay sober.

$1 per Year, Elsewhere

By Pearl Kapell

Only 61 days till W. C. Day. No, not the W. C. made famous by a weeping Jack Paar. This is Writer's Cramp Day for those hardy souls who are going to vote independent in this fall's election of State Legislators.

You can, if you like, take the coward's way out and mark your ballot straight Democratic or Republican. However, if you have an adventurous heart, and a strong right hand and arm, you'll vote for the man of your choice—177 of 'em.

Don't let election day catch you with your muscles down if you're going to do this. Don't forget, in addition to voting for the 177, you must make your Presidential choice, plus numerous state offices, plus a couple of Constitutional amendments.

As a public service to our readers, we suggest a regimen of exercises to get your arm, hand and feet muscles in trim for the workout in the voting booth on November 1.

1. Clasp a pencil in your hand, and mark an X on a sheet of paper. Start with five X's and increase the number slowly each day till you have worked up to 250. (Caution: Do this exercise only when someone else is around, after you pass the 100 mark. You may need someone to remove the pencil from your hand. We don't want you incapacitated on November 3.)

2. Make grabbing motions in the air with your fingers. Start with 10, work up to fifty daily. This strengthens the finger muscles. It will also prepare you for the proper posture, should you ever decide to run for the State Legislature yourself.

3. Practice raising and lowering the arms in a small enclosed space, such as a closet. This will restore circulation in your arms. Remember to repeat this exercise after every fifty names you mark in the election.

4. Start lifting weights, to get your arm muscles in shape.

5. Practice slipping off your shoes also in a closet. Practice wiggling your toes, shifting from one foot to the other, and doing deep knee bends. This will help to minimize foot and leg strain.

6. Practice trying to keep several various-sized sheets of paper on a small shelf while you study and mark them.

Practice counting up to 177. Mark 177 X's, count them to see if they're correct, then re-check them the next day. You had 178? Keep trying.

And Good Luck.

A Man's View Point

By Dale E. Beckley

Dear Dale:

I would like to travel to Europe but feel that I can't afford it. I've been hearing so much discussion and am beginning to think that maybe it's not so expensive as I think. What is the average cost of a European trip?

—Yearning for Europe

Dear Yearning:

The cost of any trip is determined by your mode of travel, choice of accommodations, meals, etc. According to one of the top travel bureaus, there are budget tours costing as little as five dollars a day, while the average tourist spends about twenty. Naturally, shopping and souvenirs are extra. Bon voyage.

Dear Dale:

Why is it more dangerous to have a blowout on the front tire?

—Blowout

Dear Blowout:

Naturally, the front tires have a more direct influence on controlling your car. The drag on a blowout front tire will cause the car to swerve toward the blowout side. A blowout rear tire will not cause such a swerve. With a front tire blowout the driver should avoid using the brakes if at all possible as using the brake will increase the drag on the tire and make the car almost impossible to control.

Reasonable speed is the safety factor that we should always keep in mind to prevent serious accidents in case of a blowout or any other driving situation. "Slow down and live" is a common but pertinent slogan to drive by.

Dear Dale:

I am a thirty-year-old "bachelor girl" and would gladly give up the title for the right bachelor. Lately I've been dating occasionally a man who seems interested in me, but is quite satisfied with his "single blessedness." I've been told I'm an excellent cook and would like my friend to know it. How can I do this without him thinking that I'm trying to "get to his heart through his stomach?"

—Ellen

Dear Ellen:

Any man who has to "eat out" every day of his life will jump at the chance to do otherwise, especially in the company of a gal who is eager to please. May I say how refreshing it is to know that there are still a few bachelor girls who are "hunting" without wanting to be too forward about it. I would suggest you have a small dinner party on the occasion of another close friend's birthday or anniversary and invite him along with the other couple. Or make it appear to be a spur-of-the-moment idea; he calls to ask you to dinner and you've been "marinating this nice roast all day."

—Dale

Dear Dale:

I say Babe Ruth holds the home run record, but my brother thinks that Roger Maris holds the record. Who is right?

—Home Run Fan

Dear Home Run:

You are both right. Actually Babe Ruth's record stands at 40 home runs in 154 games. Roger Maris set his own record of 61 homers in 162 games. Because of the difference in the number of games played, each record stands individually.

—Dale

Dear Dale:

When slaughtering animals for human consumption, why is it desirable to bleed the animal thoroughly?

—Red Meat

Dear Red Meat:

From strictly a nutritional point of view, bleeding is unimportant. Providing the blood were clean and disease free, no harm would come to anyone who consumed it.

Bleeding is done for practical and aesthetic reasons. If the animals were not bled, blood dripping on floors and equipment would create additional cleaning and sanitation problems. In addition, the meat would be darker in color and less appetizing to look at.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Now that the national nominating conventions are over and the top due for the two national tickets have been selected, political interest can expect to shift to state and local contests.

As usual the Republicans are expected to sweep the Lake County offices and should capture the Congressional seat for U.S. Representative Robert McClary and State Senator Robert Coulson's seat in the district races, but the big problem facing the GOP state and national ticket is the size of the Republican majority in this normally Republican stronghold.

There are some who would like to make like an ostrich and stick their heads in the sands, but there are indications on all sides that the GOP is in trouble in Lake County.

The splits and schisms that developed during the primary last spring, the lingering effects of the legislative purge by Republican leaders, and the stresses and strains of the recent judicial convention are far from healed and there is a strong feeling that the candidates will be running individually instead of as a team.

One candidate expressed the feeling at the GOP Central Committee Golf Outing that he felt like he was running in a primary election and was strictly on his own instead of running as part of the Republican slate.

The possibility that a big Democratic vote could sweep all 118 Democratic candidates for State Representative in the Illinois General Assembly is already prompting some GOP legislative hopefuls to plump for a "sure vote for me, at least."

The defection of Appellate Judge William M. Carroll, of Woodstock, to the Democratic ranks in the Appellate race is an indication of the strains pulling and hauling at the Republican Party in this area.

There are rumbles from McHenry County that many Republicans who supported Judge Carroll as a member of the state legislature, as McHenry County State Attorney and as Circuit Judge, are disenchanted because of his defection and are mounting a campaign to have him dumped as Circuit Judge.

The veteran jurist will be running on his record as a "non-partisan" candidate for retention in the 19th Judicial Circuit post as well as on the Democratic ticket, but will not be opposed by another candidate in his bid for reelection.

In the meantime Circuit Judge Philip W. Yager, who was appointed to the bench by Gov. Otto Kerner, continues to attract support from nominally Republican lawyers and many GOP regulars in his bid for election to a full term.

Now that the GOP golf outing is out of the way perhaps Central Committee Chairman Robert J. Milton can concentrate his talents on achieving the "unity" party speakers insist is a party strongpoint.

Don't be surprised if the Republican State Platform sounds strangely like State Sen. Coulson in its final form.

There are indications that many of the GOP leaders, particularly among the legislators and newspaper publishers, were so impressed with Sen. Coulson's booklet, "Illinois in the '70's" that they want to make some of the ideas an integral part of the platform.

Sen Coulson is also taking part in a series of debates on the constitutional amendment proposal calling for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Lake County Democrats occupy the political picnic picture this weekend with their annual outing at the Serbian Monastery, Rte. 63 north of Libertyville, and Chairman Mark Turner, of Antioch, reports that there will be something for everybody.

Which certainly sounds reasonable for a Democratic affair.

State Rep. Corneal Davis, a colorful political orator, will be the main speaker, but principal interest will be centered on the state candidates, most of whom are expected to be on hand.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

SMALLPOX THREATENS RETURN

Smallpox—long written off as a disease of the past—is fast becoming a national danger again. There is still an appreciable number of smallpox cases in many parts of the world and high-speed travel abroad increases the risk of the disease being re-introduced to this country.

To compound this threat, immunization against smallpox last for only limited periods and initial protection has fallen dangerously low for the vast majority of adults. Therefore, even if you were vaccinated when you were a baby, you aren't safe if you haven't been re-vaccinated since then.

Fortunately, Americans can prevent a tragic and unnecessary smallpox epidemic by visiting their physician for a "booster" immunization.

In case you've forgotten the consequences of being defenseless against smallpox, it was one of the most deadly and disfiguring diseases known to mankind. In earlier times it periodically devastated populations, sometimes killing as many as 40 per cent of its victims.

Smallpox first strikes with chills, high fever, headache and muscle pains. Children often suffer the vicious attack with vomiting and convulsions.

Then comes the rash on face and limbs. It spreads to the rest of the body and develops into honey-combed blisters which fester painfully. By the end of the eighth or ninth day after eruption, the sores begin to crust and form scars which leave permanent scars and pock marks when they fall off.

In severe cases, the eruptions can bleed, gangrene can develop and permanent damage be done to eyes and ears. These last symptoms are an indication that the disease is running a fatal course.

However, keep in mind that the horrors of smallpox can be prevented if you continue to make sure that your immunity is high. Medical authorities will tell you to get re-vaccinated every five years and always before you depart for a trip abroad.

How do you know whether you're protected? The results or "takes" from inoculation of the smallpox vaccine are classified in three categories:

1. "Primary" vaccination means that you had no immunity at all. The vaccine injection first creates a pimple which becomes a blister and then a crusted sore. The scab falls off leaving you with the familiar pock scar or vaccination mark.

2. "Accelerated" vaccination or "mild take" indicates a partial immunity. The reaction is the same as that of the "primary" reaction but it doesn't last as long and the eruption is not as big.

3. "Immune" reaction consists of a very small pimple which develops and disappears much quicker than the previous "takes."

Don't mistake this last "absence" of a reaction for immunity. It may only represent sensitivity. Remember that your doctor is the one who should interpret your reaction to smallpox vaccine.

You can prevent the terrors of smallpox from returning to this country to strike you. See your doctor to get vaccinated and then follow through with him to make sure you're protected.

SPARE CHILDREN FOOT MISERY

Certain infants and older children occasionally develop corns, callouses, bunions, ingrown toenails, hammer toes, plantar warts and other foot conditions.

Inasmuch as some parents fail to realize the rapidity of growth in children, these problems usually arise from improperly fitting shoes.

The majority of pre-school age children require a larger shoe size every two or three months, but occasionally children's feet grow so rapidly that they will require a full size larger in a month. Six to 10-year-olds need larger shoes every two to three months; 10 to 12-year-olds, every three to four months; 12 to 15-year-olds, every four to five months; and 15 to 20-year-olds, every six months.

A proper fit requires that the large joint of the first toe "break" between the ankle and the shank. There should, of course, be some room—usually a half-inch—between the end of the big toe and the tip of shoe.

Shoes are made of many materials—leather being the most suitable because it affords good aeration and support. A proper shoe is pliable and does not interfere with free motion of the toes.

Plastic shoes, canvas shoes and other recreation footwear may be used during summer months—but these should not be worn constantly. It is health for youngsters to play barefoot in sand, water or grass, but not on cold, hard surfaces.

An infant's foot requires a loose-fitting cloth "bootie" until he learns to stand. First shoes should have a flexible or semi-flexible shank and sole. These are generally an eighth-of-an-inch thick to protect the feet. They generally do not require a heel or arches, but a very small heel may be recommended.

Never order shoes through the mail. It is especially difficult to obtain a proper fit without actually trying on the shoes for size.

The bones of the feet are not fully developed for about 10 years, while the heel takes about 20 years before it is completely formed. Shoe sizes, therefore, are important because of the growth factor and the need for motion and freedom.

If your youngster has weak ankles, flat feet, or other defects, consult your physician so that he may take the proper steps to remedy the problem and avoid permanent conditions and disabilities.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH DIVERTICULOSIS

Have you ever heard the term "diverticulosis"? (Pronounced dye-ver-tic-you-low-sis.)

Although it is not popularly known, this intestinal problem affects nearly 20 per cent of all Americans over 45 years of age. What's more, it can be a troublesome—and even dangerous—if not properly cared for.

The word "diverticula"—from which the condition "diverticulosis" gets its name—describes weak spots in the wall of the lower digestive tract which protrude as "pockets" or "sacs". The most common cause of these weak spots is strain produced by intestinal gas and constipation.

Frequently the patient makes his condition worse by allowing constipation to recur and then increasing the stress with high-powered laxatives. The intestinal pockets produced in this way are perfect catch-alls for undigested food particles, fecal matter and mucus. When the pressure is too great or inflammation occurs, small blood vessels in the intestinal wall rupture and produce blood in the stool, or the first sign of trouble may be abdominal pain due to inflammation.

When this occurs, heed the warning and seek prompt medical attention. These signs and symptoms mean your diverticulosis has progressed to a far more dangerous stage called diverticulitis.

Continued pressure in the pocket, further weakened by infection and inflammation can result in perforation or "blowout" of the pocket. This is a serious consequence and prompt medical attention is needed.

These dangerous consequences can be avoided, if the patient follows these simple rules:

1. Avoid foods containing seeds or fibrous bulk which can easily lodge in the pockets. High on the list of prohibited foods are figs, raisins, strawberries, tomatoes, cracked wheat and oatmeal.

2. Avoid foods that produce intestinal gas, such as beans, cabbage, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts and carbonated beverages.

3. Develop good bowel habits—it's an important way of avoiding undue pressure in your intestinal tract. If constipation does occur, relieve it with low pressure enemas of tepid water. Never resort to harsh cathartics or colonic irrigations.

4. See your doctor regularly. Periodic examination

4. Plaza owners will install storm sewers adequate to provide drainage for Lake St. and the village parking lot.

5. Plaza owners will grade and blacktop the forty-foot strip which they are leasing from the village.

6. Plaza owners will consent to accept the lease with the permanent conditions that it shall never be fenced, no buildings will be erected on it, and it shall remain for use for parking, ingress or egress.

7. Plaza owners will grade and blacktop the 30-foot road (the remainder of the original 70-foot road into the village parking lot from Orchard St.) for 150 feet from Orchard St. and install a curb on the east line thereof.

8. Plaza owners will pay one-half the cost of blacktopping the unpaved portion of the village parking lot.

The village board also approved a building permit for an 11,500 foot shell to be constructed in the plaza. The building, Dr. Vermeren said, would probably be partitioned into three or four shops on completion.

The permit was approved with the provision that plans for the interior and installation of utilities be submitted to the building commissioner later.

OPPOSES ONE-WAY TRAFFIC

Earlier in the meeting, Ernest Westlund and Richard Burnette had stated their opposition to the proposed ordinance to introduce one-way traffic on Elizabeth and Henry streets. Westlund said that parking of churchgoers at St. Peter's Church on Sunday, and the children from St. Peter's Church playing in the street on school days, made traffic so congested homeowners couldn't get in to their homes.

Westlund said that churchgoers left the parking lot at St. Peter's Social Center empty while parking in the street near the church. He and Mr. Burnette asked that traffic be left two-way.

Mayor Cunningham asked the committee to meet with Westlund, Burnette and Father Henderson to try to reach a solution.

A committee from the Home Owners Association of Oakwood Knolls asked permission to build a storm shelter fifteen feet from a former subdivision. The original one, they said, had to be torn down, because children climbed to the roof, and from there to a nearby tree, creating a hazard. The board approved the request, with the provision that Edgar Simonsen work out location, etc. with the homeowners.

The board approved a motion not to object to the establishment of a six-acre cemetery near the Benedictine Abbey.

Kenneth Shorts, Waukegan attorney, presented a petition from Sadie Kravitz for annexation into the village of approximately 1 1/2 acres at the north limits to the village, across from Regal China. The property is the old Anderson property.

Mayor Cunningham announced that a meeting had been set for Wednesday, September 9, at 8:30 p.m. at Antioch Savings & Loan community room of all persons interested in the installation of a parking lot behind the stores on the east side of Main St. He urged all board members to attend if possible.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

MEET THE NEWBORN BABY

C. Robert Gruver
Editor
All About Babies

Infancy is such a fascinating stage of life. It is that brief period of adjustment when the newborn baby adapts itself to independent living in a strange and confusing environment outside mother's body.

In its earliest phase it seems to be a continuation of the prenatal state. At birth, baby seems to be hardly awake. And baby will continue to seem half awake and half asleep for a time, except for brief moments of wakefulness when he's hungry or is being bathed and diapered. He dozes but he doesn't sleep deeply.

Though the newborn baby appears to be complete in every detail—he has all his little toes and fingers—there is much that nature has yet to do.

For example, while baby's brain is completely formed, the nerve fibers that connect the brain to the eyes and to the muscles are not. This is why a newborn's eyes have difficulty focusing and often appear crossed and why his little limbs jerk so suddenly.

Until baby's nerve fibers are fully developed, his little body is a bundle of reflexes, those involuntary automatic responses to stimuli. When his tiny hand clutches your finger placed in his palm, that's a reflex. When baby turns his face toward a touch on his cheek, that's a reflex.

Baby's cry is a reflex and he cries without tears because the tear glands have not yet developed. The jerky movements of his little arms and legs and often his body also are reflex actions. They should cause no concern. They're nature's way of keeping baby's heart pumping evenly and his blood circulating properly.

The queer sounds the newborn make also have good reason. The infant sneezes and coughs not because he's catching cold but because this is nature's way of keeping his nose and throat clear of mucus. The snorts and grunts he makes when he sleeps are caused when the tongue occasionally slips back against the roof of his mouth. Remember, breathing is something quite new to baby.

During the first few weeks, breathing is quite shallow and baby appears to breathe with his stomach. This is because his chest and its muscles are, as yet, too small to do the job alone. Crying, incidentally, during these early weeks is nature's way of stimulating the breathing mechanism.

To watch the newborn baby as it skillfully moves from its cozy, peaceful prenatal existence into a world of harsh reality is a wonder and a joy to behold.

 PROTECTING BABY'S HEARING ***

By Malle J. Carlson
President Acousticon International

There are many children who have some degree of hearing impairment. About 80 percent of this "early deafness" occurs before the child's fifth year; and much of it can be prevented.

Most hearing impairments are the result of childhood diseases such as meningitis, measles, scarlet fever and influenza. Since these ailments. Friends may call at the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch after 2 p.m. Thursday. Friends may call at the church from noon Friday until time of services.

"CAN I FORGIVE AND FORGET?"

The God-given ability to love and to forgive is inherent in man's spiritual nature as the likeness of God. The revengeful attitude that holds on to another's past mistakes is stopped as the law of Love floods our consciousness. Learning to see others as God made them changes our attitude—and lets them change, too.

Motorists Should Carry Flares

The Chicago Motor Club points out that one safety precaution commonly neglected by motorists is having a supply of red flares on hand to mark the road side position of a car of nighttime difficulties. For maximum protection against "sitting duck" accidents, a disabled car on the roadside at night should have on its lights and a flare should be placed some distance up the road in the direction of oncoming traffic.

St. Mark Lutheran Church

The Luther League will sponsor an ice cream social on the church lawn Sunday, Sept. 6, starting at 4 p.m. Douglas Arthur, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hendershott, was baptized during worship services last Sunday morning.

The circles are resuming their meetings next week. Members of the A.L.C.W. groups are urged to read Acts 13:18 in preparation for the Bible Study.

Flowers for the church were provided by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Erber in recognition of their 24th wedding anniversary.

Fashion Show a Success

Around a hundred women attended the Lindenhurst Women's Club Fashion Show last week at the Civic Center. Modeling the latest fashions for High School and College girls was Kathy Zane. For the small fry, little Miss Vicki Manuel, and the school girls, Lynn Pearce. For the half-size or older woman, Mrs. Jenny Volpentesta. Models for the young women's styles were Mesdames Carol Bogda, Babe Hartwig, Barbara Hendrickson, Mary Jean Ploss and Mary Wiczorek. For the maternity clothes, Mrs. Shirley Mertes.

Mrs. Pat Parpan was the narrator. Mrs. Erlene Pearce and Mrs. Annabelle Leavy were co-chairmen. They, too, were one of the newest fashions during the evening.

Mrs. Ethel Brendel modeled the 'gowns' (with tongue in cheek, I say that) that she designed or created. No designer can ever say she stole their ideas. They are the only 'one-of-a-kind' creations that no amount of money could buy. To hide her identity, so that people won't bother her to create a style for them, Ethel wore a mask while modeling her originals.

Posters to go along with the theme of the "Autumn in Paris" were drawn by Pat Mauck and Erlene Pearce. Lindenhurst Civic Center was the Paris Louvre; the Plaza stores were the Rue de la Paix; the B. J. Hooper School was Sorbonne; the village hall, Palais de Justice; the Water Tower became the Eiffel Tower; several other landmarks were given French names.

The cute little French waitresses were Suzanne Lazansky, Sherri Thompson, Kathy Gusk, Ruthie Ireland, Carol Harce, Kathy Hartwig, Chris Schaeffer and Linda Harsh. Punch, coffee and strawberry whipped cream cake were served at the tables by the girls.

Proceeds will be used to stage a Christmas party for the children of Lindenhurst.

Babies in the Spotlight
Congratulations are in order for several families this week. Mr. and Mrs. Donald (Patricia) Tomek are the proud parents of a little girl born August 26. Marjorie Lynn weighed in at 8 pounds 1 ounce when she arrived at St. Therese Hospital. The Tomeks live at 310 Hillcrest Lane.

The happy grandparents are Mrs. Helen Kirschen of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Erwin J. Tomek of Berwyn. Paul and Shirley Bell of 1716 East Grand Avenue welcomed their second child, a daughter, August 22, at Conde Memorial Hospital. Little Miss Kimberly Lynn tipped the scales at 6 pounds, 8 ounces. Her big brother, Timmy, will be four in November.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Druce of Third Lake. Robert and Rose Rozhon of 2126 E. Burr Oak Lane are the parents of twin girls, born prematurely, on July 16, at Lake Forest Hospital.

Rhonda Lee weighed 4 pounds, 2½ ounces, when she was born, and weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces when she was brought home on August 14. Her little sister, Rosanne Lynn, who arrived four minutes later, weighed 2 pounds, 14½ ounces at birth. She, too, weighed 5 pounds, 4 ounces when she was brought home on August 26. The girls are identical and confuse the parents at times. One of the girls was fed twice the other day, once by Mother and then again by Daddy, but Mother caught the mistake in time and everything turned out all right.

The Rozhons' other daughter, Robin, will be two on September 20. Have you noticed the whole family's first names start with 'R'?

The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rozhon of Chicago, and Mrs. Magdalene Taibl of Davenport, Iowa. At the present time Mrs. Taibl is residing with the Rozhons. John and Betty Quinn of 108 N. Whiteoak Drive, are the parents of a son, David Martin, born August 25, at St. Therese Hospital. He tipped the scales at 6 pounds, 9 ounces when he arrived around 10:30 p.m.

Welcoming their new brother Saturday were Johnny, Julie and Barbara Jean. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forster of Northbrook.

Grandparents
Mike and Vivian Fidanzo are grandparents for the third time. Their daughter, Michaelene, gave birth to her first child, Steven Michael, on August 12 at St. Therese Hospital. The young man weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces. The proud daddy is Donald Spahn. The Spahns live in Grayslake.

The Fidanzos' daughter, Mrs. Carl (Vita) Velezquez has two girls, Valerie, 3 and Dawn, 1. She is expecting her third child in February. They live in Colonial Village.

Christening
Twenty-five couples and their families attended the christening party for Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tracy's four adopted children last week at the Lindenhurst Civic Center.

Sponsors for Annette S. were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fidanzo; Mr. and Mrs. George Lance for Lee, 8; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson for Mary Ann, 7; and Dennis Tracy and Mrs. Kathleen Camarata for Renne, 6. The children are all from one family. The christening took place at St. Mark Lutheran Church during worship service.

Reunion
The Bob Spiegl family had a "cousin" family reunion at their home Sunday. Eight families, about 35 people, including Bob's parents, aunts and uncles, brothers and sisters and their children were all there, from Johnsbury, Elk Grove and Chicago. About once a year the group tries to get-together.

Boy Scout News
The Boy Scouts had the Pepsi concession at the American Legion Bar-B-Q Sunday afternoon. The boys will receive a percentage for their camping fund for next year. They are conducting a re-creating campaign from now until October 1.

They are planning an overnight campout Sept. 19-20.

European Vacation
Mrs. Henrietta Okon and her 18-year-old daughter, Marie, have returned home after spending two months on the French Riviera, visiting Mrs. Okon's parents, who have a resort there.

Christened

Dinner guests were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ingoglia, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Unrein, Darrel Unrein and his fiancée, Miss Lynn Evelyn Ryan. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Paparigan of Waukegan came over in the evening.

Birthday Celebration
Helping Sam Ingoglia, Jr., celebrate his birthday last Wednesday evening were his wife and family; Mrs. Sylvia DePerte, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Unrein, Darrel Unrein and Lynn Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ingoglia, Sr., and the Ray Powers and their five children.

Reimer One Of Best In Modified Stock Car Racing

Johnny Reimer, Caledonia automotive specialist, is chalking up quite a record in area modified stock car racing this season, a record that may go unparalelled during the 1964 campaign.

The popular driver of modified car A-3, who will be 30 years old in September, has already chalked up 17 feature wins in area competition, more than any other driver, and has set the fast qualifying time on 30 occasions, more than double the record of his nearest rivals (figures as of Saturday, August 8).

He is currently well on his way towards winning the Hales Corners track championship, where he now leads with a 4,200 point total. In second place, 230 points behind, is Miles Mellus of Slinger. Reimer is in second place at the Cedarburg raceway and holds a close fourth in competition at the Fair Park Speedway with a good chance of taking over second on any one night.

It is doubtful, however, that he will have a chance to earn the coveted No. 1, issued annually to the top area driver by the Milwaukee Stock Car Racing Association. Though Reimer is a member of the Association, he competes on Sunday evening at

Bohn Holds Lead In 75-Lap Feature Race

Bill Bohn, of Bristol took the lead in the 75-lap feature race when pace setter Jim Lawrence, also of Bristol, was forced out with a tire blowout on the left front wheel while leading.

Bohn then held the lead through the 30th lap when the race had to be stopped following a series of hard flips by Duane Harris of McHenry, as he entered the lower turn off the backstretch. Harris was shaken up but OK.

On the restart, Bohn held the lead over second place man Bill Strom of Milwaukee, but in the back, Kenny Tolugan of Milwaukee was trying to come through. Finally he made his way around Dennis Burgen and then Bill Strom and set his sights on Bohn.

For many laps he could not gain, then it began to show that he was closing the gap and on lap 65 he pulled up even with Bohn as the two hit the upper corner off the main straightaway.

Somehow Bohn found additional speed and came out of the corner ahead of Tolugan. On this try Bohn was inside and Tolugan was outside.

On the next lap, the positions were reversed and they were still even but Bohn kept the lead and went on to a close win at the end of the 75 lap distance. Third was Bill Strom, Dennis Burgen, Chuck Uttech, George Uttech, Bill Kline, Jim Sullivan, Bob Strunk and Rodger Otto.

Going into the final race of the season next Saturday night when the feature race distance will be 100 laps, Otto will be four points ahead of Sullivan for the 1964 Championship Driver Title.

Rodger Haggie of Antioch scored a clean sweep in the spectator cars as he set fast time in that class, won his heat and the feature. Dale Coates of Round Lake was the other heat race winner in Spectator cars.

Buck Hosenberg won his first heat race in seven years as he won the first 10 lap modified race. Laurant Lavrance won the second and Steve Stevens and Bill Strom the others. Terry Vaughn won the semi feature.

A fine crowd turned out to see Bill Robis of Antioch win the 20 lap sportsman feature race at the New Waukegan Speedway Saturday night. Bill drove a brilliant race coming from the back of the field for his win effort. Bill's fan club and the entire crowd cheered wildly for his fine performance.

Heat winners were as follows: 1st heat, Al Pelkey; 2nd heat Bob Klemm; 3rd heat Jim Ford, and 4th heat Jack Ester.

In figure-8 racing Butch from Butches Auto Parts fought it out with Tammy in a battle to the finish as another figure-8 race turned into a demolition contest. With 12 cars on the track it wasn't long before 10 cars were out of the running. At this point Butch and Tammy chased each other all over the track until Butch's badly mangled car was put out of commission.

Heat winners were as follows: 1st heat, Al Pelkey; 2nd heat Bob Klemm; 3rd heat Jim Ford, and 4th heat Jack Ester.

40-Day Duck Season Opens In October

A 40-day duck season, opening at sunrise October 31 and closing at sunrise Dec. 9, has been announced by William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Conservation Department.

The daily bag limit of four ducks may not include more than two wood ducks, to mallards, two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each. The possession limit of eight ducks may not include more than two wood ducks, four mallards, two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each. The daily bag limit on coots is 10 and possession limit is 20. The limits on American, red-breasted and hooded mergansers in the aggregate of these species are five daily and 10 in possession, of which not more than one daily and two in possession may be hooded mergansers.

A 70-day split season was selected by the department for the taking of geese. The season for the taking of geese in all counties except Union, Jackson, Williamson and Alexander Counties will be from sunrise Nov. 4 through sunset Dec. 9. In the counties of Union, Jackson, Williamson and Alexander the season will begin at sunrise Nov. 16, be closed Dec. 24, 25, 26, and re-open Dec. 27, extending through 3 p.m., Jan. 15, 1965. However, the season may be closed prior to Jan. 15, if the established harvest quota of 15,000 Canada geese is reached.

The daily bag and possession limit is five but may not include, in the alternative, more of the following species than two Canada geese or subspecies, two white-fronted, or one Canada goose or subspecies and one white-fronted geese.

Give a man enough rope and he'll claim he's tied up at the office.

Golf

By Don Coleman

THE BACKSWING

In the backswing, as in every part of the golf swing, all movement begins with and is controlled by the rotation of the hips and the smooth shifting of the body's weight from one foot to the other. This 'rotation' is a definite turning of the hips—not a swaying movement from side to side, as most golfers seem to think. The head is kept in a 'still' position during this movement.

In going into the backswing, I like to think of the left arm as being 'extended' rather than 'stiff'. The less tension you have about your just before, during, and immediately after making the swing, the better swinger you'll be.

To emphasize again: All movement starts with the body itself particularly the hips. The hands and arms are merely the connecting links between the club and the body. Remember that, if the club is in proper time with the movement of the body, it will travel into the top of the backswing at the proper speed.

GUTTWEIN WINS SUNDAY FEATURE

Ken Guttwein, Hot Rod Shop driver from Milwaukee, drove a magnificent win in the 25-lap modified feature Sunday night at the New Waukegan Speedway. Guttwein, making a reappearance after a long absence this season, took over the lead on the last lap for the fine win.

Early in the race Bill Strom and Jack Radtke fought a saw battle for first until Jack Radtke spun out on the 15th lap. From that point on Bill Strom held first with Guttwein coming on fast. Meanwhile Kenny Talugan, fast time qualifier of the evening, had worked his way from the last spot in the field to third position. With one lap to go, Guttwein took over the lead and on the last turn Ken Talugan almost upset the applecart by pulling inside a stalled car in the turn with the first and second place cars coming high around. Guttwein did hold on but Talugan edged out Strom for second.

Semi-features went to Bill Bohn of Kenosha. Bill also drove beautifully from the rear of the pack to win.

Heat winners for modifieds were as follows: 1st Bill Bohn; 2nd John Reimer; 3rd Ken Guttwein, and 4th Jack Radtke.

First heat for modifieds saw Fran Seamars, Milwaukee, flip his No. 73 after losing 2 tires in a turn. Fran was uninjured but his car was badly damaged.

American Legion To Hold Hootenanny Championship

Representatives of each Lake County Post of the American Legion, comprising the 10th District, under the direction of Post District Commander Bernard Sheehy of Highland Park, held a meeting at Deer Haven, Fox Lake, Illinois, on Sunday to make plans for an official LAKE COUNTY HOOTENANNY CHAMPIONSHIP to be held at Deer Haven on Saturday, September 10, and Sunday, September 20th. The proceeds from this event will be used by the American Legion to furnish a new Lake County flag for each school building in the County.

Trophies will be awarded in each of five classifications: single act, duo act, trio act, quartet act and best group act, consisting of five or more participants.

Competition is open to all professionals, semi-professionals and amateurs upon payment of a one-dollar entry fee which will be used to help defray the cost of the trophies. Applications for enrollment may be obtained from local Legion Posts or at the Deer Haven Box Office in Fox Lake. No entries will be accepted after 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 13th. While all entries should be sponsored by a Legion Post, this is not a requirement.

Elimination contests will commence at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday and continue until all but two acts in each classification have been eliminated. On Sunday at 10:00 a.m. the two remaining acts in each contest will compete for final honors. Competitors will be limited to a maximum 15-minute appearance.

On September 17th, at a regularly scheduled County Board of Supervisors meeting, a new official Lake County flag, purchased by a prominent Waukegan business firm, will be presented to the County. This will be a silk flag for indoor use at the Lake County Court House.

The new flag was designed by Alexander C. Kean of Fox Lake from a prize-winning award drawn by Guy Bell, a student at Elva-Vernon High School in 1962. Mr. Kean volunteered his services and was commissioned by Mr. Kenneth Henke, County Board chairman to prepare the flag for official adoption during this 125th anniversary year of the County.

The flags for which the American Legion is seeking to raise funds, are to be manufactured of materials suitable for all-weather flying on each school building in the County. The flag presentation program—which bears the wholehearted approval of Dr. W. C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools—will be undertaken by the Americanism Officers of each of the Lake County American Legion Posts. Approximately 125 flags will be required.

The children are finally back in school—in the nick of time to save their Mom's composure! Vacations can be trying when they're so long.

The past two weeks were occupied for many of the subdivision children with vacation Bible school at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Henry Kopp of Hillside drive is recuperating at home, as is Mrs. John Kaiser, whose brother, Lee Walther, of Holcombe, Wis., spent last week with her.

Happy birthday to Charles Beach, Aug. 20, and Clarence Sparrowgrove, Aug. 30. Also to Gail Strand who was 11 on August 31.

It seems that lots of our girls are going to work. Noela Hansen likes her job at Sears very much; Shirley Cummings is going back to her job at the Globe, and Pat Weigel is starting at Woolworth's.

Girl Scout Troops 137 and 235 camped out for 3 days last week at Camp Morrison, Lake Villa. There were 42 girls in attendance. They cooked their own meals and had a great time. Mrs. Mueller of Piper Lane was one of the chaperones. Her daughter, Carol, was among the girls. Other girls from this area were Gail Strand, Gail Woodrow, Gail White, Janice Weigel, Pam Montgomery and Sue Shogren.

The honor Guard of Fox Lake Legion Post had a splash party Sunday, Aug. 30, at the Stribley home in Lotus Woods. Members and their families attended.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Bywell attended the wedding of their niece in Lindenhurst last Saturday. Mrs. Bywell helped with preparations for the garden reception.

Betty and Jerry Hanlon went boating on Lake Michigan (in Chicago) last Saturday and they all dined at the Columbia Yacht Club.

The Women's Auxiliary met at the Church of the Holy Family on Wednesday, September 2.

The annual audit will be distributed at the Annual Meeting to elect officers on Sunday, September 20, at Gavin Central School at 1:30 p.m. We will be asked to elect a new president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and directors of Units 1 and 3. All members in good standing are urged to attend this brief meeting.

That Long, Long Ballot

Springfield, Ill.—Secretary of State William H. Chamberlain has announced the actual size of the official general election ballot will be 11½ by 33 inches and newspapers throughout the state, which normally publish the ballot in its correct size, will be unable to do so this year.

After conferring with Attorney General William G. Clark, Secretary Chamberlain said Section 16-10 of the Election Code requires that in each county, other than Cook, a list of all the nominations made under the Code be published by the newspapers "as near as may be, in the form in which they shall appear on the General Ballot."

Secretary Chamberlain said because of the extraordinary length of the ballot for Representatives in the General Assembly, many newspapers will be unable to publish the ballot in the actual size.

"I am of the opinion the law doesn't require doing an impossible act and for this reason publication of a smaller size ballot should be permitted," Secretary Chamberlain said. "However, it should be as near to the actual size as is physically possible depending upon the normal page size in the particular locale."

He urged local election officials to enclose a footnote with the publication of the ballot explaining the ballot will be larger and will be orange when received by the voter at the polling place.

HAND-ME-DOWNS

"We would like to remind our readers once more that nothing is so old and worn but what it may have value for some person. This does not apply to clothing alone. Window curtains, sheets, pillowcases, etc., that have any wear left in them whatsoever can be used by someone... You may think that the articles you have are useless. This is not true for many who have nothing... There is always a need and always a use for used articles. Help make life easier for some other person by passing them along. — Onarga Leader-Review.

OUR CONSTITUTION

David Lawrence writes in U.S. News & World Report: "Only 175 years after our forefathers ordained the Constitution of the United States, the document has largely fallen into disuse. Some of the clauses that still remain in operation are being given an interpretation stretched far beyond their original meaning. We see an increasing power being exercised by the Judiciary over the other branches of the Federal Government as the rights of the sovereign States are gradually being extinguished. Our written Constitution, established in 1789 and amended in the intervening years to meet changing conditions, is being deliberately disregarded, and the doctrine of conformity by coercion is being espoused not only by our so-called intellectual groups but by vote-seeking politicians in our 'great society'."

If the candidates for public office keep on 'nailing their pictures on our telephone poles we'll be able to harvest a half-pound of ticks when it's all over this fall.

One in a series to help you enjoy better telephone service

How to get a phone fixed after-hours

Suppose your phone goes out of order during the evening, and you're expecting an important call. Or, someone in the family becomes ill over the weekend, and you need a telephone at the bedside.

Can you get service? Where do you call? The answer: Call Repair Service and tell us your problem. We will do everything we can to solve it. We're guided by this principle:

If it's an emergency to you... it's an emergency to us

We have improved our after-hours service by creating several new regional service centers. They handle your calls whenever your local office is unattended. The centers are staffed by experienced people who have the authority and ability to care for your needs. If necessary, they can dispatch crews immediately to repair or install telephones. If immediate action is not required, they can take the report and see that it is cared for promptly on the next regular work day.

Call Repair Service

So, if you need a phone repaired or installed after-hours or on weekends, call Repair Service.

You can find the number in the front pages of your local telephone directory.

Remember, when your phone needs fixing, we'll fix it fast—and with no extra charge. It's one of the values you receive with your telephone service.

"If you're ready for the better things in life, you're ready for electric heat"

(and the rates are down 50% since 1958)

That's Bob Appel talking. His RCA Associates, Inc., have built more than 600 homes in the North Aurora area.

Like an ever-growing number of his friends in the building trades, Bob Appel believes that electric heat is today's great home improvement.

And, if you are ready for the better things in life, no other heating system at any price comes close to giving you all the benefits of electric heat.

It's clean, safe, the most comfortable heat by a wide margin. Separate thermostats let you control the heat in every room. And because electric heat burns no fuel, there's nothing to create dirt, dust, and fumes. Walls, ceilings, curtains, and furniture stay clean longer. And there's little or no maintenance.

Besides—what else can you think of that costs 50% less today than it did in 1958?

Small wonder a woman's work is never done. She's waiting for her husband to do it. Or maybe she's still cleaning after he did the chore.

POVERTY

In Senator Strom Thurmond's view: "The $3,000 standard for 'poverty' means little... If a Social Security retiree earns enough to raise his income to $3,000, he loses his Social Security. And if all with incomes less than $3,000 are in 'poverty,' by 'government' definition, it seems contradictory that in 1963 the government collected $3.54 billion in personal income taxes from the 4.1 million Americans having incomes of less than $1,500. The fact that what is defined as 'poverty' in the U.S.—less than $3,000 annual income—would be considered a real economic status in many parts of the world is primarily due to our unexcelled free enterprise system."

DIETING AND HEALTH

Warnings concerning the practice of starvation to lose weight come from the magazine Today's Health. It points out that starvation, in addition to causing a depletion of body fat and protein, can induce other hazardous effects not readily recognized. A form of gouty arthritis, low blood pressure and anemia have been reported in some individuals after relatively short periods of fasting. And there are persons with certain diseases who should never attempt fasting. A more reasonable approach to weight reduction, it adds, is a modified diet of foods high in nutrients but low enough in calories to cause a loss of pounds, coupled with suitable exercise.
